Mrs Smith's Message

I hope you all enjoyed some fun time in the snow with your families, the children are certainly going to remember it for some time to come! The children really enjoyed the re-run of World Book Day, the costumes were spectacular. I was a little concerned about the costs that you may have incurred. The idea of dressing up was always around making simple costumes from things at home. I would be interested to hear your opinions on future World Book days. We will be celebrating the Royal Wedding in school on Friday 18th May. The day will involve a wedding, celebration buffet lunch for all the children and a disco in the afternoon. More details to follow.

If you haven't signed up for parents evening yet please do, this is such an important meeting for your child. Lots of parent's worry about how to safeguard their children. The NSPCC website has lots of advice and each week we will put a message in the new Safeguarding box that suggests where you can get information and things to think about regarding your child's safety.

Kindest regards,
Nicki Smith

Safeguarding

You've probably already talked to your child about things like crossing the road safely. Talking to them about staying safe from sexual abuse is just as easy with the NSPCC PANTS activities and advice, this can be found at www.nspcc.org.uk

If you are worried about any child in the community you can call the NSPCC on 0808 800 5000 or social services on 01225 396312 or 01225 396313
